

It has to be admitted that Mr. Schmidt is an absolutely professional chef who puts his heart and soul into his extraordinarily interesting occupation and is constantly valiantly coming up with outstanding, new ideas and concepts for maintaining a healthy and good mood among his colleagues.

His demeanour towards his colleagues, superiors, the management as well as our Board of Directors was always exemplary.

Unfortunately, he will today be leaving us after long business association in order to take up a new challenge in a bigger hotel.

We deeply regret losing him as exemplary member of our management but we do however understand his decision and can assure him that our doors remain open to him at any time.

In this respect, we can recommend him to any of our professional colleagues as an excellent chef.

We wish Mr. Schmidt all the best in his future career and private life and also wish him and his family all imaginable wellbeing, joy, success and - above all else - health.
